JUNE 2017

PHOTO SESSION AT THE PORT OF QUÉBEC

On May 12, the Sectorial Committee organized a photo session at the Port of Québec, once again choosing to work with photographer Éric Massicotte, who worked on a similar project at the Port of Trois-Rivières in 2014. The photos feature maritime industry workers. The weather was good and more than 100 snapshots were taken in the Port of Québec's different terminals. We would like to thank all of the port users who welcomed our project with open arms: Vopak, Quebec Stevedoring Company and Ocean Group, their employees and, of course, the Québec Port Authority. Your collaboration is very valuable for the Sectorial Committee's mission. The photos will be available in early June, but here is a preview (see following page).

GENERAL SHIPPING KNOWLEDGE TRAINING IN QUÉBEC CITY

The 10th edition of the Sectorial Committee's very popular training session on General Shipping Knowledge, held in Québec City, was attended by 19 people. Principal trainer Nicolas Parent, Senior Consultant with CPCS, was accompanied by two speakers, Anick Métivier, of the Port of Québec, and Ariane Charette, of SODES.

Various subjects were addressed in the training session, including an introduction to shipping and the context surrounding it, key shipping stakeholders, marine-sector occupations, types of ships navigating the St. Lawrence and overall maritime transport system organization (legislation, framework). Mr. Métivier spoke on topics related to the Port of Québec's activities and Ms. Charette addressed subjects linked to SODES' activities and mission.

FONDATION MONIQUE-FITZ-BACK DRAWING CONTEST AWARDS CEREMONY

Last March, the Sectorial Committee had the opportunity to participate on the selection committee for the Fondation Monique-Fitz-Back's Mon fleuve et moi drawing contest. More than 5000 young people took part in the contest, and 50 were winners and finalists in one of the two contest categories (Vessels and Trades, Recreation and Nature). The awards ceremony, attended by the winners and their families, took place on May 13 at the Aquarium du Québec. On the photos, we see the Sectorial Committee's Executive Director, Claude Mailloux, with Raphaël Massy and Aby-Meggan Bergeron, both finalists in the Vessels and Trades category.
